

CANNABIS LAW AND POLICY CERTIFICATE

Program Description

In today's rapidly evolving cannabis sector, staying ahead of legal changes is crucial. With laws and policies frequently changing, it's essential not only to understand what to look for but also to know how to find the most up-to-date information relevant to your role in the industry.

This certificate program will provide you with a comprehensive understanding of the legal landscape of high-THC cannabis. You will explore federal regulations as well as New York State's unique regulatory structures compared to other states, analyze strategic business entity choices, delve into taxation nuances, and examine the dynamic field of medical cannabis legalization.

Upon completing this certificate program, you will be equipped with the knowledge required to make informed decisions, implement responsible practices, and successfully navigate the growing cannabis industry.

The courses in this certificate program are required to be completed in the order that they appear.

Note: Cornell University, as a federally funded institution, cannot accept payment directly from cannabis companies. This program contains information about cannabis, a federally illegal substance, and is intended for individuals aged 21 and above.
