

DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION CERTIFICATE

Program Description

An organization is only as good as its culture—and building that culture is not only a role for HR, it's every manager's and employee's responsibility. As today's headlines prove, an inclusive work environment is not just a nice-to-have, it can make or break a company. You can help make your organization a more supportive and engaging place to work by understanding the perceptual, institutional, and psychological processes that impact the ways people interact with each other. Starting with a look at employee engagement, then identifying interventions surrounding unconscious bias and specific diversity, equity, and inclusion strategies, this program is appropriate for anyone committed to going beyond mere compliance to build a truly aware and inclusive work culture.

For the best experience in this program it is recommended to take these courses in the order that they appear.

This program includes a year of free access to Symposiums! These events feature a week of live, highly participatory virtual Zoom sessions with Cornell faculty and experts to explore today's most pressing diversity and inclusion topics, including equity, unconscious bias, psychological safety, inclusive leadership, and cross-cultural conversations. Symposium events are held several times throughout the year. Once enrolled in your program, you will receive information about upcoming events.

Throughout the year, you may participate in as many Symposium sessions as you wish. Attending Symposium sessions is not required to successfully complete the certificate program.
